

STABILA'S NEW WEBSITE IS NOW ONLINE

STABILA is proud to present its new website which boasts a clear, modern, customer-friendly design. Alongside a wealth of information about quality measuring tools, it also features a wide range of multimedia content for users to enjoy: high-resolution videos, extensive image galleries and convenient downloads.

Thanks to its straightforward layout, users can navigate straight from www.stabila.com to the information they need in next to no time. The website gives interested customers an immediate overview of the product range and provides extensive support at all stages of the buying process, from detailed product information to help with finding the right accessories. The clear layout and easy navigation extend to all areas of the website.

Furthermore, the website now includes a new "Product recommendations" area which is aimed at specific groups of craftsmen and guides them straight to the right measuring tools for their trade.

The main focus of the website relaunch is user-friendliness and responsive web design. The content, display and resolution of the website will automatically adapt to the different requirements of mobile devices such as smartphones or tablets.
