

STABILA®

Celebrate 130 years of STABILA with us

EXPERIENCE. In 1889, the Ullrich family founded a company whose name now stands for measuring tools of the highest quality worldwide: STABILA. It all started with a patent for a spring-loaded joint for folding rules. It marked the birth of the rule as we know it today and also the cornerstone of a 130-year success story. This patent was followed by many more innovative product developments – spirit levels, lasers, electronic measuring devices, and tape measures – which are there to help every tradesperson with their work.

QUALITY. Why is the quality of our measuring devices so important to the work of a construction professional? Manual skills are worth nothing if you can't rely on the measuring devices you're using. The perfect measuring device remains accurate for the long term, even under the toughest building-site conditions. We have been developing and manufacturing just such products since 1889.

FOR PROFESSIONALS. Be in no doubt – tradespeople, architects and handymen who are real sticklers for detail will sooner or later decide that they need the products with the black-yellow-white branding. And we'd like to express our gratitude for the 130 years of trust they have placed in the STABILA brand – with our exclusive and limited-edition “1889 Edition” spirit level sets.
